Training
October 5, 2010

In response to feedback from subscribers, we have developed phone and web-based training sessions for Publisher Alley. These sessions are designed to meet your varying training needs, whether you want a detailed walk-through of the product or a short, focused session on a specific tool or report. We can provide both simple phone-based training sessions for one or two individuals, and also webinar training for larger groups at your press.

You may schedule training sessions by sending an email to Dan Kervick at Dan.kervick@baker-taylor.com, or by calling Dan at 603.746.3102, ext. 3283.
